CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, April 11, 1916.
Personally appeared Neil S. Perry, who on oath declares: That he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette of April 7, 1916, there was printed a total of 4,941 copies.
Before me: J. W. CROCKER,
Notary Public

A "Trade at Home Dollar" is in circulation throughout the city, as a demonstration of what can be done if local business firms and industries are patronized instead of sending the money to Sears-Robinson and such concerns. The method of circulating the dollar is an interesting one. One hundred post cards were printed with a skeleton form to be filled out showing who received the dollar and how it was spent. Ensign Oils started the ball rolling, by spending the dollar with the Rockland, Thomaston & Camden Street Railway for gas mantles. On one of the cards he made a record of the purchase and mailed it to President Wright of the Merchants' Association; the other 99 cards he left with the Street Railway. The Street Railway spent the dollar with another concern, and repeated Mr. Oils' performance, except that there was one less card to be passed on. When the cards have all been used the dollar will have passed through 100 business houses, each of which will have received a profit, and the dollar will still remain right here at home. The Rockland City Club, with a membership limited to 25 has also been circulating a dollar, but with the added purpose of having its members become better acquainted with one another. The plan is so simple and so effective that it is a wonder it was not done long ago.

With light step and the alert carriage of a young man, a rosy countenance and his usual engaging smile, Albert L. Mather dropped yesterday upon his friends of The Courier-Gazette. It was his 74th birthday. If he had claimed a rebate of twenty years nobody would have disputed him. The conversation turning upon Masonry (it is apt to take this turn in Mr. Mather's company) it transpired that April 19 will mark the fiftieth anniversary of his entering the Royal Arch Chapter, and in the autumn of the same year he joined the Council. It is doubtful if there are many hereabouts who can equal these terms of membership. In September, 1917, Mr. Mather will have been a member of Claremont Commandery, Royal Templar, for twenty years. With the exception of William Farrow, who was a charter member, and Capt. E. A. Butler who joined in the year preceding him, Mr. Mather is the oldest member, and he proposes celebrating the anniversary when it comes around. "I may not be here 74 years from now," he said, "but I'm going to stay as long as possible and be a boy all the time."

Belgian flags were worn by many Rockland citizens last Saturday, partly in honor of King Albert's birthday, and partly to aid in the fund which Lady Knox Chapter is raising through their sale, to forward the work of the "Commission for Relief" in that distressed country. About $30 was thus raised, and had not Sunday been such a stormy day as to almost put the churches out of commission, further receipts would have come from that source.

MR. MOODY WITHDRAWS

And Frankly Gives Reason Why He Will Not Be a County Attorney Candidate.

Thomaston, April 8.
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
A short time ago you announced through the columns of your paper my candidacy for the office of county attorney of Knox county, on the Republican ticket.

That candidacy was announced in accordance with my directions, with an honest and sincere purpose, and I believed that with the support of a united organization the county could be carried into the Republican ranks. I have since that time received words of encouragement from the members of both political parties and wish to express my thanks to them, and to all those who have advocated my candidacy to the people of the county.

Two years ago the Republican party met defeat at the hands of a divided party, caused I believe by the fact that there were certain members of the party whose only motto was "to rule or ruin," and certain things have come about to lead me to believe that these same conditions still exist. I speak of this because my supporters have been fair with me, and I feel that I should be fair with them as well, and therefore in justice to them, and in justice to myself I cannot permit myself to continue further as a candidate for that important office, and at this time announce my withdrawal as a candidate for that position.

Merchants' Association Hears Details Concerning Modern Lighting System.—Getting Ready for Things.

The Rockland Merchants' Association had plenty to talk about last night, and an outsider listening to the discussion would have been struck by the fact that the city has a wide-awake organization working in its behalf.

Ex-Mayor Harrington, chairman of the "White Way" committee, presented a report showing that the Street Railway, under a five-year contract, would furnish 18 luminous are lights, between Middle and Pleasant streets, for $1300, moonlight schedule. The present cost of lighting this area is $478, the service containing only five are lights. The members were practically unanimous in opposition to a moonlight schedule, and instructed the committee to ascertain the cost of maintaining 18 lights until midnight and seven until morning. When these figures have been obtained there will be a conference with the city lighting committee. "It's merely a question of whether you want your streets lighted like a city or are content to have it lighted like a village," said President Wright. The sentiment among the business men is decidedly favorable to modern methods.

The committee which are to have charge of the Community Chautauque, which begins July 11 and lasts five days, were appointed, and it is a fine, aggressive working force which President Wright has selected. The chairmen are: Grounds, V. Chisholm; automobile parade, William Talbot; tickets, James P. Carver; advertising, Robert A. Webster. The course will include theatrical entertainments, and during the forenoon there will be instruction in playground work, and a committee of three women will later be selected in that connection. The course is to be widely advertised throughout the county, the local committees to be aided by professional workers connected with the Chautauque bureau. The

A. F. Wisner Left $8,000 By Boston Friend—How Would You Like To Be The Iceman?

The Bridgeport, Conn., Telegram published Saturday this highly interesting article:

Pretending to leave his modest fortune of $8000 cash in bank to a male friend, rather than to his wife, a resident of Boston, from whom he was separated, Henry A. Leighton, on his death bed at St. Vincent's Hospital, executed a will leaving his entire estate to Arthur F. Wisner, of Rockland, Maine.

The will was filed with Judge of Probate Paul L. Miller yesterday. The widow, Estelle, of Leighton, of Boston, through her attorney, John P. Gray, filed notice yesterday afternoon that she would contest the acceptance of the will for probate. Attorney John H. Casey drew up the will for the testator and was a witness thereto. The will was executed April 1, the day Leighton died.

Deceased was employed as a draftsman and engineer for the Boston & Maine M. C. Company. He was a former manufacturer of machinery in work will be done gradually. Capt. Archibald will continue, till further notice, to make Port Clyde the headquarters for his steamboats, the May Archer and Gov. Douglas, and will also continue to occupy the Port Clyde residence which has been his home for several years.

The real estate deal was negotiated by Oscar G. Burns' agency of this city. It is understood that the purchase price was around $7000. Active in the management of the new business concern will be the Brennans, who have lately retired from the business, and who are now back in an enterprise with which they are just as familiar and successful.

The delegates to the National convention elected by the Indiana State convention and 13 Congressional districts were instructed to present the name of Charles W. Fairbanks to the National convention as Indiana's choice for the Presidential nomination. Mr. Fairbanks' name was cheered every time it was mentioned in the convention. Later the entire delegation called on Mr. Fairbanks at his home and pledged him its support.

Hadley of Missouri announces he is not a candidate for the Presidency and asked the Missouri State convention that nothing that could be construed as an endorsement be put in the resolutions adopted.

Methodist Conference Closes

Appointments Show One Change in Knox County.—A. W. Gregory President Laymen's Association.

The lay conference Friday organized with Prof. Charles D. Woods of Orono as president, W. A. Smith of Carmel secretary, and H. L. Gould of Bucksport treasurer. Clarence B. Dow of Bar Harbor and George B. Hunter of Houlton were elected delegates to the general conference and Mrs. H. B. Haskell of Ellsworth and W. A. Vanah of Waldoboro alternates. The joint session of laymen and ministers was addressed by Bishop Hamilton and Rev. W. F. Oldham. Rev. Charles F. Smith of Camden was elected by the laymen's Association as trustee of East Maine Conference Seminary. These officers were elected by the Laymen's Association: President, A. W. Gregory, Rockland; vice presidents, John McBride, Easton, Walter Cobb, Calais, John Goldsworthy, Bangor; secretary, Charles D. Woods, Orono; treasurer, Lester Strout, Milbridge; executive committee, C. D. Woods, Orono, C. E. Dow, Bar Harbor, Lester Strout, Milbridge, E. E. Frann, Bangor, Frank O. Martin, Guilford.

At the business session of the conference Saturday morning it was voted to make an assessment of one and one-half per cent of the cash salaries of its ministers to be paid toward a permanent fund for retired preachers. The conference also voted to request the General Conference to continue Bishop John W. Hamilton in his present relationship for four more years and reappoint him to the Boston area. Otherwise it was said he would be retired on account of age.

Horace B. Haskell of Ellsworth, T. E. Jones of Danforth and J. H. Gray of Rockland were elected trustees of the Bucksport Seminary for five years.

Sunday witnessed two remarkable services in the Opera House, which was twice crowded to the doors, in spite of the fact that the worst storms of the winter was raging. Bishop Hamilton spoke in the morning, and it was a union service in which the people of all Protestant denominations took part. The matter for debate in the afternoon was the "The Defense of the Faith" in the Scriptures expounded by such a distinguished speaker.

Memorial services were held at 2 p. m. No ministers have died during the past year but tribute was paid to the memory of several wives and widows of preachers who have passed on since the last conference.

Six were ordained as deacons and two as elders, the ordination, Rev. George A. Birney, dean of the Boston University School of Theology, preached in the evening. Bishop Hamilton then closed the conference, with the reading of the appointments. Those of the Rockland District are:

Plaintiffs Like April Term

Herbert A. Prescott Gets Verdict of $1,850 in Accident Case—Other Court Matters

It now looks as though court would last Thursday, at least. As this paper goes to press Judge King is making his charge in the case of Willett Martin Co. of New York City, vs. The Rockland Gas Co. This concerns a balance of $1273, said to be due the plaintiff on a cargo of coal delivered to the Shepherds in March, 1915. The defendants paid $1000, but with the balance, on the ground that the coal was unscreened and dirty, leaving no margin of profit. Miller for plaintiff; Withee and Littlefield for defendant company.

At the conclusion of this case there will be a re-trial of the Moran-Smith case, in which injuries sustained from the defendant's automobile forms the basis of a damage suit.

The trial of Herbert A. Prescott vs. Black & Gay, cannery, occupied the greater portion of Friday and Saturday, and resulted in a verdict of $1850 for the plaintiff. Mr. Prescott was employed as a scaler at the Thomaston factory of the defendants April 22, 1915, the date of the accident on which his suit for damages is based. When he joined the force the company was using for its scaling machine a low-grade gasoline, testing 63.

According to the plaintiff's testimony he was instructed how to give proper vent to the tank in order that the explosive pressure might be relieved, but was not told to wait until the other furnace was out before he did so. The low-grade gasoline not proving satisfactory the company procured another grade, but the defendant's machine was not changed until the morning of the accident. Mr. Prescott, acting under instructions from the superintendent, filled the tank with the new gasoline, and at 8 o'clock started a fire in the furnace. Flashing over the tank, it is said he lit the furnace and gave the tank vent, as he had always done. Instantly the plug flew into the air and the young man was covered with flames and vapor which took fire and burned him badly. His ears have since healed, but the rims are gone. His neck has healed in all but one place, but there are bunches, and some inflammation on the chin and lower jaw. The burned arms have healed, or partly so, but in a manner that has left scales and ridges.

It was claimed on the part of the plaintiff that he followed instructions accurately and pumped air into the gasoline tank but once on the morning of the accident; that the only change he noticed in the new quality of gasoline was that the machine no longer clogged and that he got better heat; that the scaler's torch was made unreasonably unsafe because of the excessive volatility of the new gasoline.

Among the witnesses was Prof. A. H. Gil of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who testified that the new gasoline would furnish, under the same conditions about 2 1/2 times as much gas as the 63 quality did; that the burners could not consume any of the gas which was generated, and that an excessive pressure was accumulating in the top of the tank. In his opinion there would have been no such danger with the old gas, as two sources of heat were used, and the heat of the gas generated in the burners.

M. A. Johnson for plaintiff; Hinkley & Hinkley of Portland for defendants.

Fred A. Blackington vs. Sidney H. Benner. Action to recover damages for assault and trespass to real estate. The defendant at the time of the alleged offenses was having for Mrs. A. H. Blackington, and after getting in the last load of the season drove through the barn owned by the plaintiff. The latter reminded Mr. Benner that he was trespassing, and alleges that Mr. Benner's only reply was for him to get out of the way or where near the amount a pile of horse manure.

The defendant claimed that he was using a right of way, and made a general denial of the assault charge. The court instructed the jury that the damages could only be nominal in case of a verdict and the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of one cent. Thompson for plaintiff; Howard for defendant.

Mary F. Scott of Thomaston has been granted a decree of divorce from James E. Scott. An entry of "neither party" has been entered in the alienation case of which the libel was a plaintiff.

JUDGE FOGEL'S PORTRAIT

Oil Painting of Knox County's Only Associate Justice, Hung Saturday, With Appropriate Bar Ceremonies.

An oil painting, which is pronounced by those who knew him to be a remarkable likeness of the late Associate Justice William H. Fogel, now adorns the western wall of the Knox county court room, occupying a position over the bench, which he so thoroughly honored. The portrait was hung at the close of the Saturday afternoon court session, with appropriate exercises by the Knox Bar Association.

It is customary for the Bar to have a banquet each term, and it was in connection with this event that Saturday evening's ceremony was held. The portrait of Judge Fogel was painted by Joseph B. Cahill of Portland, the expense being met by the members of the Knox Bar, with voluntary contributions by supreme court justices. A replica of the painting is also to be hung in the court room at Belfast, as Judge Fogel was a member of the Waldo Bar before coming to Rockland. His appointment to the supreme bench was made several years after he established his law business here, and in the long line of distinguished attorneys who have belonged to the Knox Bar Association he had the distinction of being the only one who has ever been elevated to the State's highest tribunal.

After the inspection of the painting Saturday evening the Bar adjourned to its social room on the second floor of the law library, and there partook of an appetizing shore dinner served by the Copper Kettle staff. Seated around the table were Associate Justice Arno W. King, President J. H. Montgomery, Vice President A. S. Littlefield, M. A. Johnson, Charles T. Smalley, R. L. Thompson, Frank H. Ingraham, Alan L. Bird, Judge Reuel Robinson, County Attorney H. L. Withee, M. T. Crawford, Secretary-Treasurer, Walter H. Butler, Harvey R. Pease, Clark B. Frost, Frank A. Tirrell, Court Stenographer Barrows and Clerk of Courts Tyler M. Coombs.

President Montgomery, officiating as toastmaster, presented some interesting reminiscences of Judge Fogel's life, and other members of the Bar spoke in a similar vein. Judge King added eloquently to their tributes, prefacing his remarks with the tribute to the members of the Bar, whose learning, ability and zeal for their clients, is not excelled in any other county of the State.

It could also be well said that no other Bar in the State excelled Knox in point of sociability. Mr. Crawford quoted Shakespeare on this point: "Be zealous as advocates in the law, but eat and drink as friends." As in the famous Mortland-Littlefield days the members of the Bar have been huddled in the court room, but they are fast and loyal friends the moment the green doors have closed on their backs.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the informal reception to the four new members of the Bar—Walter H. Butler, Harvey R. Pease, Frank A. Tirrell and Clark B. Frost. Judge E. C. Payson was unable to be present because of a party being given at his home on account of his wife's birthday. When the Bar gathering broke up a committee called at the Payson home with out flowers, which were presented with the attorneys' felicitations.

SOCONY KEROSENE

—HEATS YOUR HOME
—COOKS YOUR FOOD
—LIGHTS YOUR HOME
and SAVES YOUR MONEY

The most serious danger for the present is that the New England coal supply may be so curtailed as to bring down the price of coal to a point where it will be impossible for the consumer who has a supply of coal to the west at this time, so that practically all the people this side of the Hudson river are threatened with the shortage except in so far as with the shortage except in so far as relief may come by water.

The situation has become so grave that it should be looked into with-out delay by the public authorities with a view to assist the railroads to escape from the confusion without causing widespread distress.

No need of worrying about coal supply or coal bills.

SOCONY Kerosene in a Perfection Heater keeps a room warm all day for a few cents—portable, always ready heat—whenever and wherever you need it.

SOCONY Kerosene in a New Perfection Cookstove cooks the family meals for six for about three cents a meal. SOCONY Kerosene in lamps means clear, mellow, smokeless light. Why pay high prices—when SOCONY Kerosene saves money and labor? No coal, wood or ashes to bother with. But be sure you get SOCONY. It is clean and pure, burns without smoke, odor or wick crust. Remember the name SOCONY and look for the grocer whose store shows the SOCONY sign.

We recommend the following oil-burning devices as the best of their kind: New Perfection Oil Cookstoves and Water Heaters, Perfection Smokeless Oil Heaters, Rayo Lamps and Lanterns.

THE UNPOPULAR PRIMARIES

A Little Spunk Is All That Is Needed To Repeal Law.

The unpopularity of the primary law seems to be on the increase, says the Lewiston Sun. At the Democratic State convention everyone seemed to be opposed to the law, and at the Republican State convention at Portland the week previous, there appeared to be a very strong sentiment against the primary law of nominating candidates. It is claimed by those who have made a study of the primary law that it operates to the advantage of the candidates residing in a city and also that a primary contest is about as expensive to the candidates as is the regular election. In other words it means a "double header" in the expense account to the successful candidate and may have come to the conclusion that a man of moderate means residing in a country town has no ghost of a show of getting nominated to any office under the primary law.

The opponents of the primary law also contend that the man whose name begins in the early letters of the alphabet has the advantage of the man whose name begins with "Y" or "W" where there are a number of names on the ballot and where a certain number are to be selected from the list. Under the amendment to the primary law passed at the last session of the Legislature the polling places in towns will remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening the same as in the places of over 300 inhabitants, so that a much larger vote may be expected from the country districts on the next primary day.

An effort was made at the last session of the Legislature to refer the matter of the repeal of the direct primary law to the people. The proposition was advanced by Hon. David R. Hastings of Auburn, a member of the Senate from Androscoggin county, and a lively hearing was held before the committee on legal affairs. Senator Hastings contended among other things that the country towns did not have a representation in the distribution of the county offices under the primary system as the vote was too small. He cited the last election in his county of Androscoggin, which would be that of the year 1914, when the Democratic candidates for sheriff, county treasurer, county attorney, register of deeds and clerk of courts all came from the city of Lewiston, because of its overwhelming Democratic vote. Mr. Hastings himself, was nominated for senator in the Democratic primaries because there was no candidate against him, so he stated.

The repeal of the primary law was vigorously opposed at the hearing by Hon. Howard Davies of Yarmouth, who has been called "the father of the direct primary law in Maine." Senator Edward F. Flaherty of Cumberland county, Senator Charles R. Dutton of Penobscot county and others. The signatures must be obtained from each of the towns within the district. A candidate can procure the necessary signatures in any one or more towns in the district, whether it be for a representative class, county or state. They need only to obtain the required number of signatures of members of their own party within the electoral district, where the candidate is to be voted for.

Many of the candidates have sent in more signatures than the maximum number of names required. Such a nomination paper is, of course, invalid and another one must be substituted for it. Each petition must be sworn to before a magistrate and returned to the Department of State before the first Monday of May, which this year happens to fall on the first day of that month.

In Bangor, the night before the State convention, the Washington county delegation met to select its committee-men. However, the sentiment in Washington county is so strong against the primary law, that the delegation devoted the most of their time discussing the various candidates for county office, and finally recommended candidates for nomination for several of the county offices. This, they explained was done to secure a more even distribution of the offices that otherwise might result under the primary law.

It is believed that at the next session of the Legislature, a concerted effort will be made by the leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties to have the present primary law repealed.

Information for Lung Sufferers

The makers of Eckman's Alternative will be pleased to send reports of recoveries from tuberculosis and a booklet of interest to sufferers, with information about diet and fresh air. Investigate this case. 2141 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa. "My Dear Sir:—For years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, and later I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about, I was left with a frightful, hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I started taking Eckman's Alternative. Time went by, my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done." THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

Rev. Carl N. Garland One of the Delegates to General Conference.

The reception of fraternal delegates was one of the most pleasing features of the Conference. Rev. Henry Jones, D. D., rector of the Episcopal church, endeared himself to all by a very loving yet thoroughly characteristic speech and was roundly applauded. Rev. C. L. Stevens of the Congregational church gave perhaps the wittiest speech, but the ovation accorded to Hon. Carl E. Milliken of Island Falls was unusual for a Methodist conference. Mr. Milliken represented the United Baptists of Maine and did not talk politics but civic righteousness and every day religion. The Bishop, who was not cognizant of Maine politics was rather puzzled at the outburst for a moment, but responded very happily to all of the delegates and pleased the conference with his ready and brilliant extemporaneous speech.

Rev. E. T. Garland of the Maine Bible Society gave a report of work done that was very pleasing.

Chancellor Hamilton of the American university gave a short statement of the work done by the great post graduate university which admits only college graduates and is Methodistism's most unique educational institution. Among those who were presented to the conference and perhaps the one making the greatest impression was Rev. L. D. Evans, pastor emeritus of the Camden Congregational church. He gave an intensely spiritual exhortation and his fervor and sincerity combined with his long service gave him a weight with the listeners that would be gratifying to any speaker.

The conference opened Friday with the usual devotional services and was followed by a business session. At 10 o'clock came the address to the entering class by Bishop Hamilton.

Eleven were advanced to full membership and received some advice from Bishop Hamilton. They were John Carson, Carmel; R. C. Dalzell, Prospect Harbor; George H. Dawson, West Lubec; N. F. Forsyth, Orrington; L. H. Jenkins, Cornish; M. J. Smith, Woolwich; G. P. Sparks, Cutler; W. H. Stewart, Columbia; A. E. Whitten, East Pittston; H. B. Sellers, Belfast; A. G. Davis, Penobscot.

Rev. Frederick Palladino, superintendent of the Bucksport district, and Rev. Carl N. Garland, superintendent of the Rockland district, were elected delegates to the general conference at Saratoga. Rev. A. E. Morris, superintendent of the Bangor district, and Rev. C. F. Smith of Camden were chosen reserve delegates.

Revs. G. E. Allen and F. S. Leach were transferred to the New England Conference. Rev. Frank Kingdon to the Southern New England Conference, and Revs. H. I. Holt, E. H. Brewster and F. W. Brooks, to the Maine Conference. Rev. M. E. Osborne was received from the Ohio Conference. Rev. R. N. Jocelyn, from Vermont, and Rev. John Jones, from northern Indiana.

The following directory shows where the distinguished visitors stayed during the Conference: Bishop John W. Hamilton, D. D., Mrs. Emma Long, 36 High street, guest of C. O. Montgomery.

Franklin Hamilton, D. D., F. D. Board, D. D., E. C. Clemens, D. D., W. F. Oldham, D. D., Mrs. Emma Long, High street.

Song That Attracted Stella.

Five-year-old Stella was fond of going to Sunday school and she liked especially the singing. "Did they sing any pretty songs at Sunday school?" asked grandma of the little girl upon her return home. "Only one," replied the youngster. "It was something about Greenland's ice cream mountains."—Musical America.

Man's Heaviest Burden.

It is what a man has to do for a living that palls on him. If it were to become the custom for ball teams to pay rooters, it would not be long before there would be a rooters' union that would demand a reduction of innings, more wages and a pint of subs per capita between innings.—Houston Post.

DOG LAW

Acts and resolves, 4909. Section 3.—Every owner or keeper of a dog more than four months old shall annually, before the First day of April, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed for one year from the First day of April, in the office of the clerk of the city, town or plantation where said dog is kept, and shall keep around its neck a collar distinctly marked with the owner's name and its registered number, and shall pay said clerk for license the sum of one dollar and fifteen cents for each male dog and each female dog incapable of producing young, and five dollars and fifteen cents for each other female dog, and a person becoming the owner of a dog after the First day of April not duly licensed shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided above. Every owner or keeper of dogs, kept for breeding purposes, may receive annually a special kennel license authorizing him to keep such dogs for said purpose. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed ten, the fee for such license shall be ten dollars. When the number of dogs so kept exceeds ten, the fee for such license shall be twenty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper under the age of six months. Dogs covered by the kennel license shall be exempted from the provisions of this section requiring registration, numbering or collaring.

Sec. 5.—Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this act shall forfeit ten dollars, five of which shall be paid to the complainant and five to the treasurer of the city, town or plantation in which such dog is kept.

Sec. 6.—The Mayor of each city shall . . . annually, within ten days from the first day of May, issue a warrant to one or more police officers or constables directing them to proceed forthwith either to kill or cause to be killed all dogs within such city . . . not licensed and collared according to the provisions of this act, and to enter complaint against the owners or keepers thereof; such officers shall receive from the city two dollars for each dog so killed. All bills for such services shall be approved by the Mayor of the city.

On May 10th a warrant will be issued to the proper officers to kill or cause to be killed dogs not licensed and collared according to the provisions of the law.

Lively Meeting of Gloucester—Miss Theresa M. Thomaston Wins Spell

At the Gloucester Social evening the schoolhouse was overflowing, nearly 150 present. Chairs were brought outside and yet several selections were rendered the Thomaston High School Club, with Miss Margaret Montgomery as temporary leader. Miss Montgomery presided at the piano. The Club was composed of the members of the Club were Madeline Elliott, Theresa Montgomery, Vera Moore, Mildred Bowers.

Development of Agriculture, the subject discussed by Merrill, Dean of the University of Agriculture, University of California, he said, has passed through two distinct epochs, and the third. The "plone interests were divided; maker farmer" had no created by the machine. The next epoch, homes. The next epoch, we are well into, is that of the farmer. We are consider the matter of business. The big economy is distribution. The cost of distribution of the farmer's products a ton per mile to the country roads.

There are too many in the job. Location of transportation is important. The farmer has to decide of farming he can carry fully, and the great question shall we farm, but shall farm. Forty-five average length of the growing season is 193 days; in the average has been two years ago in Cumberland there were only 90 days of frost. The season is doomed unless some road to overcome the it is subjected. We can the big waste of food. There are plans for distribution in this county. Smith-Leaver appropriation comes to this State. like. Farming as a business must have enough to make it pay. Surround largest market the farms than two acres of plow should plant that for the best adapted and show things that the market value.

The second speaker was E. Milliken of Island Falls. He was happy to be here for discussion, that the Union and Woman Suffrage is in favor of both. We take things in the which they are. Mr. Milliken's description of his journey Egypt and contrasted it with the conditions in this country. It stood still 3000 years in state, where right beside machinery and methods of civilization has been the unselfishness through the mission in the world and it has been threatened. It must belong to our generation to bring about the peace of the speaker believes "ness," but the military the real danger that the people. Destruction of life, if it comes, will be inside and not the outside. Three problems that must be solved. First, wealth among. The war is putting more civilization, and a danger is the money-mad era. No nation was ever destroyed by poverty.

Second, immigration. It is a problem to the hunters. It is a problem to the citizens.

IF YOU WORRY, READ THIS

Worry never brought any good to anybody. But, you say, "I don't worry because I want to. I worry because I have so much to worry about." We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being able to profit by it.

The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he cannot do it because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is a characteristic symptom, must be cured by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "Diseases of the Nervous System" and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia." So many people have read it and written back, "This hits me just exactly, I am giving the treatment a trial and being benefited," that the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. has had a lot of these books printed and will send you a copy free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a non-alcoholic tonic, particularly suited for nervous, neurasthenic people. Your druggist sells them or they will be mailed postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

Queen of Sardine Fleet

Lawrence Canning Co's. New Boat "W. C. T. U." Has No Equal on Atlantic Coast.

Being christened "W. C. T. U." she takes as naturally to the water as a duck.

"She" is the largest sardine boat on the Atlantic coast, if not in the world, and in whatever waters she plies is bound to attract lots of attention, in spite of the fact that there's no mirror work about her. Her owners are practical men, and the "W. C. T. U." is a practical fishing craft.

Everybody on the Maine coast has heard of the Lawrence Canning Company, now North Lubec Canning and Manufacturing Company. The name was changed last year, when Hon. Edward M. Lawrence took into partnership his equally energetic and enterprising sons, Glenn A. and Lloyd N. The name of Lawrence has been identified with the sardine industry for these many years, but it was not so very long ago that they built the Rockland plant, which was when considered the best equipped sardine factory in the world. At this plant the Lawrences have "biled in" many thousands of bushels of the little herring, and have sold their product before the sardine was dry on the tins.

Sometimes the herring school in Maine coves, and then as perversely elude the vigilant fishermen. Fast boats with a wide cruising range become a necessity when the latter conditions prevail, and thus it happened that Col. Lawrence, in what he chooses to call his idle moments, drafted a herring chaser, of superdreadnought caliber, and patriotically named it "W. C. T. U." because of his wife's prominence in that organization.

The "W. C. T. U." was built at Friendship by W. A. and J. D. Morse, whose skill in that line has brought many orders from persons who might otherwise never have heard of Friendship, Maine.

In the long, narrow hull, which speedily assumed shape in the Morse yard are the remains of the Standard oil steamer Petrolia III, which was blown up at Atlantic wharf one morning last summer, killing one of the crew, and injuring the captain so badly that he died weeks later in the hospital. The hull of the Petrolia III was raised soon after the tragic occurrence and few know to this day what disposal was made of it.

The customs officials completed their measurements of the new sardine boat a few days ago, and their record shows these figures: Registered length, 90.2 feet; breadth, 16.6 feet; depth, 7.1 feet. The "W. C. T. U." measures 94 feet over all, and is about 65 gross tons.

The frame is oak and the planking and ceiling are hard pine. The cabin has accommodations for five men, and is finished in cypress. A portion of the keel as well as the hull, came from the Petrolia III.

The "W. C. T. U." is schooner rigged and represents what is known as the knockabout fisherman type. Her mainmast are 50 feet in length, and with booms to match has an expansive sail area.

Sails on this craft will be auxiliary power, however, for when one glances at the 120 h. P. Diesel engine, installed by the New London Steam Engine Co., it is easy to see why the owners are expecting the craft to make 13 miles an hour in her voyages up and down the coast. This engine burns fuel oil, and costs the "W. C. T. U." owners $7500. Among motorboat owners and fishermen generally this engine has already attracted more attention than the prize bull at a county fair. The oil tanks which are located on the sides of the cabin have a capacity of 1000 gallons, and afford a cruising radius of 1200 miles.

The "W. C. T. U.'s" total cost is approximately $12,000. Most of her trips will be made to the Maine islands for large herring, to be used in the Lawrence factories. She will be commanded by Capt. Alfred Lord, and will carry five men all told.

On her maiden voyage the "W. C. T. U." behaved in a manner that delighted owners and crew.

SAUNDERS' NEW VESSEL

Sch. Charles B. Loveland Launched at Bath to be Commanded by Sch. Northland's Former Captain.

The new four-masted schooner Charles B. Loveland, launched from Perry & Small's yard in Bath Thursday, being christened with roses and pinks by Mrs. C. H. Saunders of Portland.

The official measurements of the new craft are: Length, 179.5 feet; breadth, 37 feet; depth 15 feet; gross tonnage, 776. She will have a carrying capacity of about 1350 tons, and is rated A1 for 15 years in the Bureau of American Shipping.

Capt. C. H. Saunders, who is one of the owners, is going in command of the Loveland and he is enthusiastic over his new vessel. He said to the Bath Times Wednesday, "Perry & Small seemed to anticipate my desire in the construction and equipment of the vessel and if there is anything lacking, I have failed to discover it."

The Times says: "Capt. Saunders has been going to sea in command for twenty-three years and during that time has had four vessels, the John Francis, Cornelia Soule, Marion Cobb and the auxiliary schooner Northland. He left the Northland to go in the Loveland, and has been in town the past month. The schooner is chartered on her first voyage to take oil from Philadelphia to Liverpool, and has a fine charter. Mrs. Saunders, who has been on many trips with her husband, will accompany him on the maiden voyage."

The Loveland will carry a crew of nine men, and will be ready for sea this week.

The Percy & Small fleet at the present time consists of the six-master Wyoming, the five-master M. D. Cressey, Martha P. Small, Cora E. Cressey and Governor Brooks, and the four-master Robert P. Murphy, Dustin G. Cressey and Carl F. Cressey. The past year they disposed of the William H. Clifford, Helen W. Martin and Eleanor A. Percy.

CAPTAIN WAS LOST

When Sch. Elsie A. Bayles Went Ashore on North Carolina Coast.

The schooner Elsie A. Bayles of Bangor went ashore early Wednesday, Feb. 1, to load lumber for a New England port. The vessel is owned by Capt. B. D. Cleveland of New Bedford, who bought her after she had been laid up all winter. The Bayles figured extensively in February in connection with a report that she was to be used in carrying a cargo of arms to Villa. A man representing himself as General Debutier of the Villa forces was said to be concerned in the attempt to purchase arms for the Mexican leader.

SAUNDERS-LOGAN

Theodore Marshall Saunders and Miss Marie L. Logan were married at the bride's home in Belfast April 5.

Rev. Harnden S. Pearl officiated, using the double ring service. The bride was attired in white crepe-de-chene, overskirt of lace and lace trimmings. Her veil was caught with white roses and she carried a bouquet of white pincks. She wore the groom's gift, a diamond and pearl pendant with chain. Her traveling trunk was blue, hat black with blue trimmings.

They left on the morning boat for Rockland, where they will make their home after returning from a wedding trip to Boston and Portland. The bride attended the city schools, leaving high school to attend the Miss Mary E. Pierce school in Boston, where she graduated. For some time she was employed by Elmer J. Twombly of Boston, but came home on account of ill health, and later worked in the law office of Judge Wayland Knowlton, and for the past few years has held a responsible position in the City National Bank. The groom is a native of Farmington and has been engineer on the Belfast-Burnham Branch R. R., but was recently transferred to the Rockland-Lewiston run. Both are well and favorably known in Belfast and they were the recipients of many valuable and useful gifts. The best wishes of many follow them to their new home in Rockland-Belfast Journal.

CARL MILLIKEN SPOKE

Visit Meeting of Gloucester Social Center—Miss Theresa Montgomery of Thomaston Wins Spelling Contest.

A Gloucester Social Center Friday evening schoolhouse was full to overflowing with nearly 150 persons being present. Those were brought in from several and yet several had to stand. The Gloucester High School Mandolin Club, Miss Margaret Louise as secretary, Miss Blanche Cope as treasurer, and other members of the club took part in the singing. Other members of the club took part in the singing. Other members of the club took part in the singing.

Development of Agriculture was the subject discussed by Dr. Leon S. Merrill, head of the Department of Agriculture, University of Maine. Agriculture, he said, has passed through the period of discovery, and is entering the period of development. The "home" of the farmer is no longer a place of refuge, but a place of business. The next epoch, and one that is now before us, is that of the business farmer. We are now forced to consider the matter of farming as a business. The business of farming is not a simple one. It is a complex one. It is a business that requires a great deal of capital and a great deal of skill. It is a business that requires a great deal of capital and a great deal of skill.

There was a contest in pronunciation, conducted by Miss Minnie Barrett of Rockport.

The next meeting will take place April 21.

average net result of a community, is determining the citizenship of its boys and girls. Which way is the community pulling on the boys and girls, upward or downward? The answer determines whether the nation shall live or die. No man has a right to allow anything that drags down a community is that one who makes that community the most wholesome place to live in.

Mr. Milliken believes that the government should have power to remove officers who do not enforce law. He believes in centralization of power, and holding that power responsible. There is a distinction between violation and nullification of law.

Mr. Milliken is a candidate for nomination for governor, and during the open forum following his address he was asked some pertinent questions, which he answered satisfactorily in his able and frank manner.

Brinard Paul of Rockport played violin solos, with Miss Elsie Paul as accompanist. There was a spelling match in which 14 students of the Camden, Thomaston and Rockland High Schools entered. Frank Crandon selected some "law-cracking" words that made the spellers gasp. Miss Theresa Montgomery of Thomaston was the last one to be spelled down.

There was a contest in pronunciation, conducted by Miss Minnie Barrett of Rockport.

EAST UNION

Mrs. Ann Mahoney

Mrs. Ann (Robbins) Mahoney, widow of the late Charles Mahoney, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Dorman, Friday, March 31, after a brief illness of pneumonia. Her age was 82 years and three months. Deceased was an estimable woman, quiet and unassuming; she was devoted to her home and family, possessing one of those calm, cheerful dispositions, always having a kind word for all. Her presence will be sadly missed among those who have known her so many years. And it may be truly said of her that a constant and faithful friend was found in her reward. But there will be comfort in the sweet memories of her who has gone that will never grow dim and her sacred influence will ever remain with the dear ones who have so tenderly cared for mother and grandmother during her declining years.

Mrs. Mahoney was twice married, her first husband being Albion Wentworth, and from this marriage one son survives, Clifford Wentworth of Hope. More than 40 years ago she was united in marriage to Charles Mahoney, and from this union there is one daughter, Mrs. W. E. Dorman, with whom she had made her home since the death of her husband about two years ago. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Rachel Farrar of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Lucy Farrar of Bath; three grand children, Miss Edith Dorman and James and Edward Dorman. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Plummer of Union. There were many beautiful floral messages of love and sympathy from kind friends and neighbors.

SOUTH WALDOBORO

Horse Pitcher has returned to his home in Belfast after spending a few weeks with relatives and friends here. He makes a short stop in Camden enroute.

Levi Noyes and Miss Olive Hoffes were united in marriage Tuesday evening, April 4, by Rev. Mr. Webber. We unite with all in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Mrs. Cora Jones of Waldoboro village was a recent visitor at the home of Simon Vannab.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Winchenbach of the West Side have moved into John Wallace's house here.

We are glad to report that Mrs. A. H. Wheeler has sufficiently recovered from her long and severe illness to be able to attend to household duties, and recently called upon a neighbor.

The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Ernest Burns Thursday afternoon. There was a good attendance. Ice cream and cake were served.

South Waldoboro is wonderfully fortunate in having an all-round workman, Charles Freeman is a carpenter and mason, and is capable of doing any work that may be needed. The best thing about it is that he is a good workman. We hope the people of this vicinity will make it possible for him to remain with us.

Two power wood-sawing gangs are at work in this vicinity and seem to be kept quite busy. One is run by Mr. Winchenbach and the other by Mr. Benner. What a great improvement over the old way—with the buck saw.

We noticed recently in the interest-

How Does a Man Become Rich?

Some people think that wealthy men get their start by speculating, but this is not usually the case.

They started early to save and deposited their money in the Bank regularly—thus laying a substantial foundation for financial success.

Now is the time to start an account with us.

We Want Your Co-Operation

The prosperity and success of the Gas Department of the R. T. & C. St. Ry. is dependent upon the good will of the people it supplies, and the service it renders.

We are trying to make a gas of high quality, supplied under a uniform pressure, and render to you an accommodating service.

Where we fail, we only ask that criticism be fair, and a chance be given the Department to rectify such troubles as are the cause of your complaints; where we succeed, we hope you will give us your recommendation and support.

In order that you may understand our efforts better, we are going to tell you from time to time through announcements similar to this, what we have done, what we are now doing and what we are aiming to do to merit your support and confidence.

There is building at Noank, Conn., a five-masted schooner which will have some unusual features. The vessel, which will have a capacity of 3000 tons and cost about $180,000, is being built for Fields S. Pendleton. It will have a steel keelson and be strapped with steel inside, and the planking will be five to six inches thick. The vessel will be equipped with an oil-burning engine, will have no topmasts, and the arrangement of the engine house, galley and crew's quarters will be different from any other sailing vessel on the coast. It is expected she will be ready in June.

Looking inside the walls of the Filene Store

NO picture could be made to show you everything within these walls. The floors are too wide; the things of interest too many. But this does give a clear idea of the arrangement of the store as well as some of the fascinating places you will particularly want to visit.

LET us begin at the street level and look upward. This is the "Fixings" Floor—where the little things folks usually like to buy in a hurry are sold. Men's hats and furnishings are just inside the front doors. Overlooking this wide floor is a spacious balcony Rest Room with Post-office, Telephone and Telegraph, Information and Personal Service Bureaus, and Hairdressing and Manicuring Rooms near by.

Now let us follow the busy man who comes to Filene's. If he is headed for the men's barber shop, clothing or tailoring, or athletic goods shop on the Second Floor, he doesn't come into the First Floor at all. He simply steps from the street through his own door onto a moving stairway or escalator that lifts him upward in a jiffy. Here he finds a tipless barber shop, manicures, an indoor golf course, as well as a splendid array of clothing of every kind. Men share this entire Floor only with the Boys' Clothing Store and the Children's Barber Shop in the farther corner.

Perhaps Mr. Man is bent on lunching rather than shopping. Then in the rear hallway, opening direct from Hawley Street, he will enter an express elevator that whisks him to the men's cafe on the Eighth Floor. Here is a check room for his hat and overcoat and a cigar shop. Oh, yes, smoking is permitted in the Men's Restaurant.

WOMEN reach the Main Restaurant and Tea Room by elevators, too, but there are many fascinating stops on the way, the "Baby Shops," for instance. Baby's true importance is recognized here and half of the Third Floor is given to his needs. Everything from the layette to six-year-old dresses may be found. A trained nurse is always present to confer with mothers and give helpful advice. The remainder of this Floor and the next three above are devoted wholly to things worn by women and girls. Look at the picture above, read the list and remember that only a few of many are mentioned.

ALL these upper floors are divided into separate shops with indoor streets between. Each shop has its own show windows and its signboard, guiding the way to seclusion, opportunity for quiet, careful selection, specialized service.

The Filene Store as a whole, you know, specializes on things to wear, for women, children and men. Then each of these shops on the indoor streets specializes on a limited field of apparel, devoting all the attention of its buying staff and salespeople to giving extra good service in that field.

That is why they are called The Filene Specialty Shops. That is why Filene's has become probably the largest store in America devoted to personal outfitting. Passing the Seventh Floor, set aside wholly for offices, we come now to the Eighth Floor Restaurants. But these must be seen to be realized. Beautiful decorations, flowers, fountain, singing birds, the Choralcello or orchestral organ, the refinements of service—all these only suggest the charm of this delightful place.

DESCENDING again to the Street Floor, we go by stairway to the Basement for a look at a unique store which has made merchandising history.

The Automatic Bargain Basement is a separate 2-story store, selling none but under-priced merchandise of dependable quality. In this store prices are controlled by a unique automatic plan. Merchandise that does not sell within two weeks is reduced 25% at stated periods. After three such reductions, at intervals of one week, the merchandise is given away. No other such store exists anywhere.

IT is worth coming to Boston simply to see and experience The Filene Store. Make this your headquarters when you do come. Meet your friends here. It is in the very center of the city, "The Hub of the Hub," only five minutes by direct electric or Subway from North and South Stations, on the straight road to everywhere.

In the meantime, won't you send us your name and address so we may mail you an interesting book we have for you?
